East Greenwich, the eighth-oldest town in the state, was named for the original Greenwich in Kent County, England. The eastern edge rests on the Narragansett Bay, and the western land gracefully rises up four picturesque hills. Originally owned by the Narragansett Indians, the territory was acquired by King Charles II in 1644. It was incorporated as a town on October 13, 1677, when the Rhode Island General Assembly granted land to men who served during King Philip's War. The town's sheltered cove nurtured a thriving seaport community, and successful boatbuilding, rope making, and fishing industries emerged. Inhabitants of the western part of the village focused on farming, and a prosperous textile industry lasted until the end of World War II.

Candace Mathieu:

As a student exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher expected them to go to the library or make summary for some reserve, they are complained. Just little students that has reading's heart or real their passion. They just do what the professor want, like asked to go to the library. They go to generally there but nothing reading really. Any students feel that reading is not important, boring and also can't see colorful pics on there. Yeah, it is to become complicated. Book is very important for you. As we know that on this time, many ways to get whatever we would like. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this East Greenwich (Images of America) can make you experience more interested to read.
