Concerning The Christ Rev. David E. Clarke, Alton Loveless

This work is written in four books. Book one: Jesus, Our Savior, is a devotional narrative concerning certain characteristics of the Lord. I am a literalist and to be Christian means to be Christ like. In determining His characteristics, we can ascertain how we are to be and act. The second book: The Grace of God is a collection of essays concerning cyclical biblical interpretive models. By utilizing a cyclical approach, the reader of Scripture as a follower of the Lord, can understand and interpret more completely Scripture. They can in a better way study and read Scripture and improve how we live our lives in our imitation of Him. Book three: The Trinity and the Convergence of Worship is a narrative concerning the doctrine of the Trinity. I believe that C.S. Lewis' book, "Mere Christianity" and his profound writing concerning this doctrine is a must read. Also within this portion of this book I delve into Convergence Doctrine. How true worship of the Triune God is demonstrated in the merging together into one stream of worship the Sacramental, Evangelical, Charismatic and the Dispensational. As an example of the Sacramental worship, I have included a revision of the liturgical mass to reflect this doctrinal stance. Book four: The Clouds is a poem following the outline of the Book of the Revelation of Jesus Christ found within Scripture.
