Early on a Sunday morning in Whitley Bay, a headless female torso washes up on the beach. Two days later, the head finally appears – and with that, DI Jack Brady is plunged into one of the most harrowing cases of his career.

“Moaning, she lifted her aching head up off the cold tiled floor. In the background the razor sharp noise of dripping water echoed again and again.

All she knew was that she was hurting. Really hurting.

That was when she realised that her tongue was missing...”

Early on a Sunday morning in the North East seaside resort of Whitley Bay, a headless female torso washes up on the beach. Two days later, the body’s missing head appears a mile down the coast – and with that, DI Jack Brady is plunged into one of the most harrowing cases of his career.
